HIGH INTEGRATED SURVEILLANCE SYSTEM

A key challenge in the Oil&Gas sector is ensuring the safety and security of employees and assets. Moreover, surveillance becomes today essential and not only aimed at the protection of plants, equipment and people but also at the control of production and the environment, continuously monitoring operations.

To guarantee the optimal condition to work, Drillereye and 2b Control have developed the High Integrated Surveillance System.

From exploratory wells and gas fields to pipelines and oil terminals, we can provide the detail required to monitor operations, crews and assets in a very integrated way, using any internet-enabled device, from anywhere in the world.

Through the use of Guardian, the System is able to manage and control the most disparate security systems and devices, integrating them in the same platform.

The range of services offered and supported ranges from fire protection, anti-intrusion, video surveillance and access control systems, to gas detection systems, presence detection and perimeter monitoring.
